REPLACE CLARA BOW IN MOVIES DURING TRIAL

"It" Girl Stays Away From Court; Ex-Secretary "Tells All;" Poker, Liquor Enter In

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16. (AP)—Clara Bow, replaced temporarily at least as a motion picture star, stayed away from superior court this afternoon as her former secretary, Daisie DeBoe, on trial for alleged grand theft, began to "tell all."

The flame haired actress liked to play poker; she bought much liquor, and gave her men friends expensive jewelry, Miss DeBoe testified giving the names, amounts and places.

Two grand theft counts involving nearly $700 were dismissed just before the state rested its case leaving 35 counts totaling approximately $15,300 against the blonde ex-secretary.

Clara Is Replaced.

The "It" girl who was to star in "City Streets" was replaced today by Sylvia Sidney of the New York stage, Paramount studio officials announced. They denied, however, that Miss Bow was "through." Miss DeBoe has predicted in her purported confession she would be if she got "one more slam in the papers."

Miss DeBoe, the first defense witness said the actress hired her as secretary at $75 a week, the amount to be raised to $125 at the end of a year and that her duties were many. She paid all bills, shopped for Miss Bow and was a companion to her, she testified.

"I bleached and henneaed her hair and saw her face was without lines," said Miss DeBoe. "I also informed men their presence was no longer wanted.

Bought Her Liquor.

When she referred to pay for the actress, Defense Attorney Nathan Freedman asked: "You bough liquor for her?"

"Yes, Miss Bow had it sent to her home and I had to pay for it."

"What was the largest amount?"

"Two hundred and seventy-five dollars' worth."

Questioned about poker bets Miss DeBoe said the amounts ranged from $5 to $200.

"Miss Bow liked to play poker," she said, "she would stay home from the theatre to play. We played at least six nights a week when she was not working."

"You also purchased jewelry for Miss Bow?" Freedman asked. Told that she did, Freedman asked for instances.

"Well, I bought a watch and chain for Dr. Earl Pierson. I paid around $4000 for it."

Bought Presents.

"You bought it at Miss Bow's request?"

"Yes, I bought them all at her request."

"Name other instances."

"I bought a star sapphire ring for Lothar Mendes, for $900.

"I got a watch for Harry Richman paying $200.

"Then I bought a $10,000 engagement ring for Miss Bow."

"Who paid for that?"

"Miss Bow paid for it. Then I bought two diamond brooch pins, one for Miss Bow and one for myself, paying $950 each. This was at her request.

"When we returned from New York last October Miss Bow asked me to pick out a diamond clip and a diamond sport pin for less than $2000. I paid $1700. I kept them in my possession. I did not have an opportunity to give them to her."

Miss DeBoe said she checked on the "Clara Bow Special Fund" with the authority of the actress but frequently wrote checks on her own account to pay the "It" girl's bills. One store did not like to take checks so she wrote checks on the Clara Bow special fund to "cash" and made purchases with cash.

THREE CHILDREN KILLED BY FIRE

TWIN FALLS, Jan. 16. (AP)—The flames from an exploding oil stove snuffed out the lives of three of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown here late today. The fourth child, Ruth, nine months old, was rescued by her mother and is believed to have a chance for recovery.

The dead: Philip 3, Virgil and Virginia, twins, 2.

The children were trapped in a little one-room dwelling when a stove near the door exploded. Flames filled the room preventing entrance. When the flames were abated Mrs. Brown dashed into the room ahead of firemen and rescued her baby.

PORTLAND, Jan. 16. (AP)—Police detectives said tonight they had discovered no tangible clews to the identity of a man who yesterday tried to kill Mrs. H. W. Howard, 56, chief state's witness in the unsolved death of Mrs. Leona Bowles, young Portland society matron.

Meanwhile Mrs. Howard was recovering slowly from wounds over her heart and across her face, presumably inflicted by a knife.

PROHI BIRTHDAY PASSES IN QUIET

Senator Sheppard, One of Authors, Defends Dry Law in Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Comparative quiet marked prohibition's eleventh birthday today, the calm being broken only by a defense of the 18th amendment by its author.

Senator Sheppard (Dem., Texas) asserted in the senate that the dry clause would be in the constitution forever.

It was the first time the liquor question has been brought before the senate this session. Senators opposed continued their silence.

Quiet likewise pervaded the Wicksersham law enforcement commission which gave assurance the prohibition report had not yet come to President Hoover. Almost no official activity could be seen at commission headquarters. No secret was made that the members have completed their prohibition deliberations. But only silence met all questions as to when that document—described outside the commission as a "compromise" among the 11 members—would finally make its way to the White House.

Sources close to the commission considered it probable that the White House might not officially receive it until Monday or later.

Strong doubt was expressed the document could leave the commission's hands tomorrow.

UNEMPLOYED MARCH IN 'HUNGER' PARADE

Police Use Tear Bombs to Disperse Mob at St. Louis City Hall.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—A "hunger march" of several hundred persons on the city hall as a demonstration against unemployment led to a riot resulted in the arrest of eight men and two women and the dispersal of the crowd by police with tear gas bombs.

While paraders carrying banners displaying demands for food remained in front of the city hall a delegation of 40 went to the mayor's office. Jules Field, the mayor's secretary admitted three. While he was talking to them most of the delegation moved to the board of aldermen's chamber on the same floor.

Alderman Charles Neumann, acting president of the board, ordered police to eject the disturbers.

The delegation then stopped in front of the mayor's office and was harrangued by Verna Mason who said if the unemployed could not get food otherwise they would take it. At this juncture several hundred demonstrators entered the hall. Police began throwing tear bombs. The demonstrators and policemen were shoved and struck.

REPORT HEADLESS BODY IN PLANE

FORT CROCKETT, Texas, Jan. 16. (AP)—A report an army plane and the decapitated body of a man in uniform had been found in a mud flat near Francitas, Texas, was to be investigated today by army air corps officers seeking Lieutenant J. F. Grasty and Corporal Philip Schuchman, missing fliers.

Sheriff Hugh White of Jackson county said T. T. Towns, announcing himself as a World war veteran, reported he found the evidence of a tragedy and that two aviators Towns summoned picked up the body, saying they would fly to San Antonio.

Army air men there last night reported no knowledge of the incident.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAN IS BEFORE IDAHO SENATE

Bill Introduced Yesterday; Would Start Next Year; Representative Taber Is Sworn In.

BOISE, Jan. 16. (AP)—A bill was introduced in the senate today to authorize the board of education to accept buildings and grounds of Ricks academy at Rexburg as a site for a junior college and asking $75,000 to operate it.

The bill was introduced by Senators Hanson (Rep., Teton), Gibson (Dem., Jefferson), Swanstrum (Dem., Fremont) and Hoopes (Dem., Madison.)

The measure explained that the Latter Day Saints church offered the institution to the board of education as a gift, the place being valued at $225,000 and a capacity of 600 students.

Would Start Next Year.

The bill provided that the institution start as a junior college next school year and that the appropriation carry it for the balance of the biennium.

No bills came into the house but instead came a new member, Paul A. Taber, (Rep.) to succeed Lawrence Hodgin of Twin Falls, resigned. The appointment was made today by Governor C. Ben Ross after a conference with members of the Twin Falls delegation.

No announcement was made as to the agreement reached except that Hodgins expressed a desire to resign because of the death of his father, Shad Hodgin. He agreed, however, to continue serving unless a republican was appointed to succeed him and preserve the republican majority of 14 in the house.

Taber is a member of a Twin Falls insurance firm.

Taber Sworn In.

He was sworn in at the opening session and immediately took the chair Hodgins vacated. It has not been decided whether a rearrangement of committee assignments will be made.

Senator Metfan withdrew his bill which proposed to allow out of state directors to sit on the board of the Northwest Nazarene college at Nampa. He promised to introduce another correcting defects found in the first one when it came up yesterday for final passage.

Senator Grebe, Ada, president pro tempore, presided in absence of Lieutenant Governor G. P. Mix, who attended the convention of the state chamber of commerce.

Several committee meetings were called for today and the house republican caucus continued consideration of the pending primary bill which may be introduced soon in opposition to the primary bill introduced by a democratic-republican combination in the senate.

RAMSTEDT QUESTIONS SEATTLE TAX EXPERT

Seeks Information as to How Proposal May Affect Mines.

BOISE, Jan. 16. (AP)—She tax proposal of Roy Dodge, Seattle, being considered by republican leaders for introduction in the present session of the legislature was taken under fire today by Ramstedt, Wallace, official of the Day mining interests.

He appeared before the republican steering committee to determine by questioning Dodge what effect the tax would have on the mining industry.

The appearance of Ramstedt was the first of what is expected to be a series of tests of the proposed law which contemplates taxing persons and business enterprises of all classes for the privilege of doing business in Idaho.

Although no conclusions were announced it was known that the examination by the mining representative was to be continued at one or more further meetings. Dodge has offered to draft a measure along the lines he had worked out. It involves a tax on net incomes in which a graduate scale favors enterprises with large proportionate investments in this state.

MIX ATTACKS FARM BOARD OVER WHEAT

Says Board Should Spend $150,000,000 a Year to Buy Lands.

BOISE, Jan. 16. (AP)—Lieutenant Governor G. P. Mix charged the federal farm board with failure to attack the real problem of the wheat surplus and urged that it spend $150,000,000 a year for two years in buying up marginal wheat lands.

Speaking before the state chamber of commerce, he declared the talk of having the farmers reduce acreage was a "waste of breath."

"When the farmer is hammered by his creditors to pay his debts and get more land in production he is going to get that land in production regardless of the cries of the farm board," said Mix.

By purchasing 10,000,000 acres a year for two years, he said, 140,000,000 bushels of wheat would be taken off the market each year from then on as the average production is seven bushels per acre.

"Wheat is the key to the whole situation surrounding the depression, he said, and assailed the farm board for failing to attack it at the right point."

The silver question was raised by Former Governor H. C. Baldridge who declared the solution of the depression depended on restoring the purchasing power of Oriental countries.

Closes Convention.

The chamber concluded its two day convention tonight with a banquet after adopting a series of resolutions that touched such subjects as highways and establishment of primitive areas.

The next annual convention will be held in Lewston. The resolutions were adopted at the afternoon session.

The chamber recommended that all revenues such as the gasoline tax accruing to the highway department be left with the state highway department for spending. Consolidation of highway districts was recommended as an economy measure. They endorsed enactment of a drivers' license law.

Would Stop Peddling.

Legislation to prohibit itinerant peddlers operating in the state was urged. Approval was voted for establishment of the million acre primitive area in central Idaho with the provision that nothing be included in the regulations that would hinder development of mining.

Cooperation by the state with federal government agencies in stamping out blister rust in the white pine forests and a study of further use of forest products to help the industry were approved.

Continuation of the survey being conducted jointly by the state and the United States geological survey was advised.

A problem for the present legislature was contained in the recommendation that the present session study the question of submitting a constitutional amendment looking toward consolidation of counties as an economy move.

Other recommendations not covered in resolutions were referred to the executive committee of the chamber.

FARMER BOY WAS HEADLESS RIDER

HITTERDAL, Minn., Jan. 16. (AP)—Washington Irving's headless horseman's reign over Sleepy Hollow has had a modern counterpart on the Hitterdal-Ulen highway for two weeks.

Midnight motorists and youths returning from country dances reported seeing a "devil" with horns, and tail and cloven hoofs, leaping and cavorting along the highway in the moonlight. Several young men reported to Clay county officials they lost control of their cars, which were ditched, while the rear of feminine companions were shattered.

Investigation revealed the "devil" appeared one and a half miles north of here. A farm youth who admitted a penchant for mimicking the "satanic spirit" was taken into custody, and produced a close-fitting costume, horns, tail, hoofs and all. No charges have been preferred.

FEWER DRINKS SOLD.

SENATE PLANS BREAD, SUGAR INVESTIGATION

Will Open Inquiry Next Week; Say Bread Too High Compared With Low Wheat Price.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Bread and sugar were written today into the list of subjects the senate intends to ask questions about.

Moving rapidly it ordered an investigation of their prices and made plans for opening the inquiry next week.

Senator Capper (Rep., Kan.) was named chairman of an agricultural sub committee to make the study and he announced the committee would get to work by Monday if possible.

The committee was authorized to investigate reasons why the low price of wheat and flour have not been reflected in the price of bread and if any combinations in restraint of trade are responsible.

The senate approved the resolution without debate. The resolution is a combination of measures introduced by Senators Wagner (Dem., N. Y.,) and Brookhart (Rep., Iowa). The audit and control committee voted $15,000 for the inquiry.

Capper indicated the committee will not confine itself to inquiring into the prices of bread and sugar but will, if it is necessary, investigate the prices of other staple food products such as meat.

"There has been widespread complaint," Capper said, "that the prices of foodstuffs have not declined in proper relation to the prices paid the producers of them.

"The committee will investigate why the retail price of bread is the same as last year while the price of wheat has been cut in half and flour is very much lower.

AGREEMENTS HOPE OF SILVERSMITHS

Handy and Harman Discuss Silver Problem; World Importance.

SPOKANE, Jan. 16. (AP) — The Spokesman-Review was advised today that international agreements, in the opinion of Handy and Harman, silversmiths, offer the most likely hope for stabilization of silver. This firm has been an authority in the silver market for a decade.

In a review of the silver market for 1930 they express the belief that any plan that may be evolved in order to be successful must recognize the world-wide importance of the metal.

"Perhaps," the review says, "a curtailment of supplies from demonetization may be brought about; perhaps the policy of the Indian government to sell from treasury reserves may be altered; perhaps even a resumption of subsidiary coinage by certain countries may be perfected. Perhaps new industrial uses of silver may be found.

"Undoubtedly any accomplishments along these lines would strengthen the market, but it is our opinion that even without such assistance the price of silver will advance when a revival of world trade occurs."

Although world trade silver production in 1930 declined approximately 17,000,000 ounces from the previous year, the review points out that this decline of only 6½ per cent failed to fulfill expectations. Only in the United States and Peru was production curtailed in keeping with forecasts prior to the price decline.

Senator Cutting demanded that republican leaders "repudiate" Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the republican national committee.

Stephens said investigation of a charge that three high school students belonged to fraternities, which are barred from secondary schools in California, revealed that more than 500 students have membership in some 25 such organizations.

HEAR 16 WITNESSES IN CONSPIRACY CASE

Chelan County Sheriff and Deputies Named on Indictment.

SPOKANE, Jan. 16. (AP)—Sixteen government witnesses testified today on what they know about the so-called Chelan county liquor conspiracy case being tried in federal court before Judge J. Stanley Webster.

Most of the witnesses, who moved in a parade to the stand unhampered by objections, gave testimony to corroborate testimony introduced yesterday that purported to show that former Sheriff Peter Wheeler, two deputies and seven others conspired to carry on the liquor business.

Most of the testimony was centered on Wheeler, who was defeated for reelection by Burt McManus, one-time jailor for the sheriff.

Leonard Larson, an admitted bootlegger, said he went into the liquor business after Carl Lowe, Three Lakes tavern keeper, told him he could operate on a large scale by splitting "50-50" with the sheriff. Wheeler, in a later telephone conversation, Larson said, advised him that he could "depend on whate Lowe said."

It was agreed, he said, that $3 a case would be the protection fee for beer selling at $6 a case.

$100 to Operate.

"Later," he testified, "I went to see Wheeler about selling whisky in a gambling club under the Seattle hotel in Wenatchee. He told me I could operate for $100 a month which I said was too much. He told me that he had been told I was going to tell on him. He told me if I squealed he'd kill me."

"I won't do it myself," Larson quoted Wheeler, 'but I'll have some of my gunmen do it.'

"I thought this was a funny thing but I didn't operate in the gambling club."

Under cross-examination Larson admitted he had been making beer a month before Lowe referred to the sheriff about protection money.

Court was adjourned this afternoon until Monday. Roy Fox, United States district attorney, intimated the government might require next week to present its case. The indictment charges Wheeler and his deputies and the seven other defendants with conspiracy to engage in the liquor business and Wheeler of accepting protection money, with cutting jail sentences short for a fee and the deputies with accepting protection money.

JUDGE SUSTAINS SHERIFF DEMURRER

Featherstone Returns Court Order Friday Afternoon.

A court order sustaining the demurrer of Sheriff Walter Hendrickson to the complaint of Mrs. Ethel Wenger, who contested the recent general election on the grounds that certain irregularities occurred in two Kellogg precincts, was handed down in district court by Judge Albert H. Featherstone Friday afternoon.

Judge Featherstone took the case under advisement Wednesday afternoon after hearing arguments of C. W. Beale, attorney for Hendrickson, and H. J. Hull, attorney for Mrs. Wenger.

In presenting his arguments, Attorney Beale cited numerous decisions of courts in similar cases, referring mostly to the Idaho supreme court. He maintained that malconduct had not been shown and that therefore there had not been grounds for contest in the complaint.

With the demurrer sustained it is understood that an appeal cannot be filed by the plaintiff as the case was not in court. There was no announcement Friday night as to whether the plaintiff will file a new complaint.

COMMUNISM AIM IS REVOLUTION, AMPTER STATES

New York Organizer of Soviet Group Says His Organization Will Control Country.

By M. F. DUHAMEL

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—A small, bare ballroom, up four flights of dark and dusty stairs, is the nerve center of the communist party in America.

There at a desk sits Israel Ampter, who described himself as his party's New York organizer and who declared the aim of the communists there is revolution.

On a prime shelf above his head is a darkly gleaming bust of Nicolai Lenin, father of the Russian revolution, a massive chunk of black onyx, the cubicle's only adornment.

From the window two American flags can be seen standing to the breeze on nearby buildings.

"We'll replace them with another flag some day," Ampter said, as a two-hour interview drew to a close today. "A red flag—that will mean more for the masses."

Revolution is Aim.

"Revolution," Ampter said, "is the aim of the communist party. We make no attempt to deny that. Our single purpose is to end the capitalist system and emancipate the working masses."

Ampter is tall with a protruding jaw. His attire is that of the average business man, his manner positive, his voice strong.

"There is no compromise in the communist program," he emphasized. "The American Federation of Labor has sold out the workers. Communism is going forward in revolution.

"We are organizing the unemployed wherever we can get to them to fight and the present economic crisis with its 10,000,000 unemployed in America, (the estimate is his) has given us our greatest opportunity to promote the cause of communism.

"The average American working man will turn against capitalism just as the Russians did in setting up the soviet government.

"This country started with a revolution.

Would End Cuts.

"The American workman will not stand idly by and see his family starve for political or any other reasons. We propose trying to put an end to wage cuts such as the head of the world's largest bank has just suggested; to demand unemployment relief and to protect the masses with unemployment insurance.

The means to be employed, he said, depend on the resistance to be overcome.

Ampter said the party's plans for 1931 were like those of 1930—"always the same until the end is gained; always revolution until the horizon is reached and class distinctions are leveled; until labor has been relieved of the yoke of capitalism and men enjoy the full fruits of their toil."

WOMAN SENATOR FAVORS REPEAL

Wyoming Legislator Says She is "Dry," But Dislikes Conditions.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 16. (AP)—Proposed attempts to amend the state liquor law or call for a referendum on it, may meet with the approval of Mrs. Dora McGrath Wyoming's first woman state senator, she said today.

"It may seem like a paradox, but while I am a dry I do not believe in the Volstead act," she said.

"It is a difficult problem and is not for me to say how it may be solved but I do think the prohibition law cannot be enforced regardless of how much money is spent or how hard the government tries to enforce it.

"It is an appalling situation when young girls have to be assisted from dance halls so under the influence of intoxicants they do not know what they are doing."

Miss McGrath is one of the state's pioneers and lived here when cowboys were the main inhabitants.

"Even in the territorial days when there was a saloon on every street there wasn't the temptation to drink as now," she said. "In the early days a cowboy wouldn't think of speaking to a lady if he had been drinking.

"I wish we were back where we started from. Anyone who speaks frankly could not be in favor of present conditions."

SEEK REFERENDUM

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A bill calling for a direct referendum on the 18th amendment was submitted to the state legislature today.

MINES OF THE COEUR D'ALENES

Arizona Mines' Output Is Less

Pronounced Decrease Shown in Output of Five Metals; Value in 1930 Was $76,095.

The value of gold, silver, copper, lead, and zinc produced by mines in Arizona in 1930 was about $76,095,000, a decided decrease from $155,207,133 in 1929, according to estimates made by C. N. Gerry and Paul Luff, of the United States bureau of mines, department of commerce. A pronounced decrease was shown in the output of all five metals and the decrease in copper was more than the copper output of Montana in 1930.

On account of the decreased metal production and the greatly decreased total prices of silver, copper, lead, and zinc, the value of each metal was also distinctly less than in 1929. Two years ago 208.6 134.1 200.7 195.0

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Back tracking by professional bears, who found themselves unable to dislodge any volume of selling orders, gave stock prices a firmer tone today.

Net gains of one to two points in industrials and utility leaders were exceeded by a few specialties while the rails moved up slowly. Trading contracted to 1,321,240 shares, not much larger than Wednesday's turnover.

Such active units as United States Steel, American Can, American Telephone and General Electric sagged to new lows for the movement during the first hour which was the market's softest period. When offerings became scant the shorts covered quietly and the market closed at the best prices of the day.

HEENEY VICTIM OF FREAK KNOCKOUT

Crushed Rock Tolled Out on Count of Eight; Outcuffed Max Baer Most of Three Rounds.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York Jan. 16. (AP)—A set of scrambled numbers told by a rattled timekeeper, brought a surprising muddled ending tonight to the heavyweight match between Max Baer, California, and Tom Heeney, the old crushed rock of New Zealand.

To the amazement of 8000 spectators, Heeney was counted out on the stroke of eight when he climbed back into the ring after being pushed through the ropes in the third round. Forgetting for the moment he had tolled two while the ancient mariner was outside, knocked down, Time Keeper Arthur Donovan tolled "8" while Heeney reeled on one hand and one knee. Then he suddenly discovered that eight plus two made 10 and waved Heeney from the enclosure, victim of one of the strangest knockouts in this arena.

It happened that Jack Dempsey was in the center of the ring as referee just as he was the night of another fiasco—the time Otto Perat sent Phil Scott into a foul swoon with a tap on the hip.

The finish was scarcely more surprising than the battle Heeney waged against the big powerful youth. Thomas easily outcuffed the cocky youngster without inflicting a great deal of punishment. He forced the smile from Baer's features and forced Max to take the situation seriously.

Almost the minute Baer settled down to work in the third the bout came to its amazing climax.

REFUSED ADMITTANCE

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Jan. 16. (AP)—Interpreting the mandate of the New York state athletic commission in the strictest sense, spotters on the gates of the Garden refused admittance tonight to Primo Carnera, the Italian giant, and Pauline Uzcudan, Spanish heavyweight, because of their suspension by the fistic fathers.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUES SEEK FISH HATCHERY

It is understood that a site in Hagerman valley, Gooding county, has virtually been selected. It is the location of an old game farm and is 12 miles from a railroad.

Local Izaak Walton leaguers point out that there is a favorable site on the St. Maries river near Fernwood. The temperature of the water is favorable and there is ample water throughout the year. An area of 30 acres is available and it is adjacent to the highway. More land could be obtained from lumber interests which own the adjoining property.
